#15 / Advent-urous times

Dear all,

We are coming to the end of an exciting year. We look back on numerous events, workshops, academic milestones, and publications. For some of us, there is still a lot of work lying ahead with the project proposals due on December 16. Nonetheless, we want to take a moment to give an overview of the latest news in the CRC and draw your attention to some upcoming highlights of 2020. And just in case you have any spare time over Christmas, we have collected the latest CRC publications for you to read.

Please bear in mind that the last working day for Central Services is December 23, 2019. We will be back on January 6, 2020 with renewed energy.

Wishing you all the best for these advent-urous days of the year,

Ana-Laura Lemke and Michael Remmy

CRC-General Meeting 2019

On November 4, the CRC-general meeting took place at the HoP. During the meeting several areas and developments of the CRC were presented, summarizing the wide range of activities and recent success of its members. This was a fitting occasion for the reception which followed, where the informal exchange between researchers and projects was continued.

Working Group Sustainability 🌱

During the General Meeting on November 4, a working group on the topic of sustainability was initiated by Simon Rössig (A04).

Its aim is to develop guidelines, best-practice recommendations and measures to make the CRC more sustainable. These concern modes of travel, alternative possibilities to participate in international workshops, reducing the carbon footprint in daily issues and rethinking office habits.

The first meeting of the Working group will be on December 18, 2019 from 2-4 pm on the Spitzbogen at the HoP. All interested in working on this topic are cordially invited. For more information please contact simon.roessig@uni-koeln.de.

CRC-Networking: Cologne – Potsdam – Saarbrücken

Following the inaugural meeting in Potsdam at the beginning of this year, the 2nd CRC- Networking Meeting took place in Cologne on November 14-15. Researchers from the three linguistic CRCs in Cologne, Potsdam and Saarbrücken came together to discuss their work. The focus of the meeting was on discourse matters such as discourse structure, discourse connectives, discourse particles, clause combining, influence of discourse context on the interpretation of linguistic expressions. A continuous networking and exchange is planned. For more information please contact Frank Zickenheiner (fzickenh@uni-koeln.de).

Newly elected

Congratulations to Nikolaus Himmelmann! He was elected as a member of the Fachkollegium of the German Science Foundation (DFG). To see the entire election results, click here (German version).
