

Linguistic perspectives on perspective-taking in narrative discourse

Bergische Universität Wuppertal, Campus Griffenberg, U.12.03

Program

12.06.2019

09:30-10:30 Merel Semeijn and Emar Maier (University of Groningen): Extracting fictional truth from unreliable sources

Coffee break

11:00-12:00 Cornelia Ebert (Goethe-Universität Frankfurt) and Stefan Hinterwimmer (Bergische Universität Wuppertal): Free indirect discourse meets character viewpoint gestures

12:00-13:00 Emar Maier and Sofia Bimpikou (University of Groningen): Point of view: Representing speech, perception, and hallucination in pictorial narrative

Lunch break

14:30-15:30 Stefan Hinterwimmer (Bergische Universität Wuppertal): Demonstrative pronouns as indicators of perspective-taking in narrative discourse

Coffee break

16:00-17:00 Sara Meuser (Universität zu Köln): Perspective-taking in the visual world paradigm

17:00-18:00 Sofia Bimpikou (University of Groningen): Anchoring free thought and perception representations in narratives

13.06.2019

09:30-10:10 Carina Rothkegel (Universität zu Köln): Interpreting indexicals in reported speech

Coffee break

10:30-11:30

Sonja Zeman (LMU München): Wanted dead or alive: 'The narrator'
A linguistic hunt for a narratological category

11:30-12:30

Discussion